

The Dairy Bar

The Dairy Bar is an essential stop! This authentic old-fashioned diner is located in Whitley City, KY (the northeast corner of the Big South Fork) and minutes from one of "Annie's" favorites - the Big South Fork Scenic Railway. The Dairy Bar was established in 1933 and is the heart of Whitley City. They have great authentic curbside service, delicious hamburgers, onion rings and milkshakes. The Dairy Bar has its claim to fame as being one of those "must see diners" listed in the "Eating Your Way Across Kentucky" and "101 Place to Eat in Kentucky" books. Folks drive from all over the state and the country to eat at The Dairy Bar with owner Mark often times being asked to autograph the book. The Dairy Bar brings back memories, especially for baby boomers. You could say nostalgia kicks in for some as they reminisce of sitting out in front with their special date in that gorgeous '57 Chevy. One of the favorites at The Dairy Bar are the "Dixie Whopper" plate - a gigantic double-decker burger with special sauce, fries and coleslaw. The coleslaw is made fresh daily, and hand scooped into the special containers by The Dairy Bar waitresses. Everything is made from scratch and the ground chuck is bought daily from a local butcher. Nothing is the prepackaged frozen stuff. In the fall and winter, make sure to indulge in a bowl of the freshly homemade soups! Mmmmm!!! Friday nights are hopping with their fried catfish and codfish with fries, coleslaw and homemade hushpuppies. Don't forget to leave room for dessert or just come in and have a homemade milkshake or their delicious hot fudge cake which is also made fresh every day. This is a luscious chocolate dessert oozing with hot fudge with moist devil's food cake. Customer loyalty at The Dairy Bar is not hard to find and the ladies who work there love serving their clients and getting to know them. Many of the ladies have been there for decades! It is not unusual for two or three generations to have worked at the restaurant. These ladies know their clients and for the many folks that come to visit, the ladies make them feel extra welcome as they get to know them. In fact there are several clients that come in and the waitress knows exactly where they are going to sit and have their drink already poured, before they sit down. One patron comes in to eat at The Dairy Bar six days a week, all year round. Many come back year after year with their children and for most this is one of the highlights of the trip. Many sports teams, family reunions, and church groups make The Dairy Bar a destination or utilize the diner for their special event or the main place to have their meals. They are open for breakfast starting at 8:00 AM and close at 10:00 PM (EST) Monday through Saturday. This is a perfect day trip destination during the spring, fall or summer. Make sure to take a drive to the Big South Fork Scenic Railway, enjoy a train ride and explore some of the mining camps, delight in the gorgeous scenery along the way and stop by The Dairy Bar and experience the delicious food, southern hospitality and the memories of yesteryear.
